A Typewriter Interview on Creative Habits

Austin Kleon's blog post introduces his latest typewriter interview, conducted with the cartoonist Grant Snider. The post presents the conversation as part of Kleon's ongoing series on creative habits, notebooks, and sharing work.

A seller of printables can borrow the format for a short interview sheet that pairs one question with a blank panel, giving buyers a place to answer in words and in a quick sketch. A two-page printable titled "Draw Your Answer" could ask what a person notices on the walk to the mailbox and leave half the page for a drawing.
